Ball said Weintal had told him a Senator had said to him "Thank God for GWB; at least he is raising a questionary finger about the SVN business". Ball told W his views were the same as the other people advising the President. We are all raising questions as we did in the missile crisis in 1962. There may be an article in this week's NEWSWEEK. Greenfield said he would get a copy and let Ball know if there is.

Ball asked if he could use the 13 points this afternoon in talking with Bailey. Greenfield saw no harm in it; the Secretary had run through it quickly with the correspondents.
